Forward for disposal a petition addressed to H.H. the Maharaja by Ammal, widow of the late Dewan Rangachar, praying for a grant to enable her to make permanent arrangements for the charities carried on for the benefit of the soul of her deceased husband.

3. It is ascertained from the Comptroller's office that the lady has been receiving a monthly pension of Rs 100 from the Palace and an annual grant of Rs 100 for her husband's Sradha ceremonies, also from the Palace.

4. The papers relating to the grant of a state pension of Rs 400 a month for a period of 16 years ^{from Oct-187} for the support of ~~the~~ the late Dewan Rangharachari's family and for the education & upbringing of his grandchildren are submitted ^{as per} H. 6 The above note of Pt. 1 shows that a State aid of Rs 400 was sanctioned for 21.10.97 for 10 years for the training & upbringing of the late Mr. Rangachari's son then 5 years old. This ceased in October 1913. Mr. Rangachari says he is disappointed in her sanction and would not encroach upon Govt. indulgence any longer on this account.

7 She is in receipt of a monthly pension of Rs 100, and an annual grant of Rs 100 both from the Palace, the latter on account of the late Senora Rangachari's Sadha Ceremonies.

8 The lady's prayer is contained in para 5 of her memorial. The appendix to her Pet. contains information as to the services she has instituted out of the 100 Rs pension per month & the annual ^{Sadha} grant of Rs 100. She now requests that, as it is not likely that her father-in-law will continue the services after her, nor can her daughters & their children do so in their present circumstances, the pension & the grant may be sanctioned as a permanent grant for the performance of these services even after her death. It will be observed from the Appendix

I do not think this is in accordance with the Vaidika Sadhas. He is not after all a simple one for the sake of kindly mentioned by the Government. I think further the Government has not now asked for the Sadha and the Sadha is not to be done.

The Notes contain all the material facts. The lady in her old age deserves to be treated with every indulgence but to create a perpetual endowment of such large value from State funds seems to be hardly appropriate.

The matter is one to be dealt with according to the gracious generosity or benevolence of H. H. the Maharaja. The annual sum is now being paid from the Public Fund.

May it Please Your Highness,

The humble supplication of Annalammal, wife of the late Mr. C. Rangachari B. S. G. is as follows:

2) When the death-bed of her dear husband was enshrouded by the darkness of despair at the untimely termination of his devoted services to the State and to Your Royal Family and the embarrassed state of his circumstances, the beneficent generosity of Your Highness illustrious father of blessed memory shed a bright ray of hope and sustained the drooping spirits of Your humble petitioner with the encouraging hope that the family will be worthily represented by her beloved son. Under the kind patronage and guidance of His late Highness the young man prospered and held a good position when the cursed fate which is ruthlessly pursuing our family cut off his promising career and plunged Your petitioner and his orphan children in unutterable grief and blank despair. Her Highness the Maharani Sri Vanivilasa Sannidhana like the benignant goddess that she is, came to their rescue and sanctioned from the State liberal provisions for the maintenance of the family in respect and comfort and for the education and upbringing of the young scion of the family.

family (Petitioner's grandson). With this liberal help and Her Highness' stimulating encouragement, your petitioner though a weak and forlorn widow was able to carry on the management of the family with credit and to help the various other members dependent on her as far as it lay in her power.

3) The same misfortune has again cruelly dogged the family and prevented the fruition of the legitimate hopes and expectations entertained on behalf of the young heir of the family. In spite of all endeavours he has failed to make any progress in his education, and his mental attitude and temperament are such as to fill your petitioner with grave apprehensions as to the young man's future. The Government having done their very best, she though an ignorant woman fully realises their limitations and does not mean to press for the extension of any further State aid.

4) But as a loyal and devoted wellwisher of Your Royal House, she seeks the gracious help of Your Highness to enable her to end her days in peace and to make some permanent arrangements for the charities which she has hitherto been carrying on with the bounty of Your Highness to acquire merit for and benefit of the souls of her dear departed husband and son and for herself. These Charities are described ~~described~~ in further detail in the annexed paper and cost about Rs 100 a month with an additional annual charge of about Rs 100. This represents almost the monthly stipend allowed to her and the sum of Rs 100 vouchsafed by Her Highness Sri Vani Vilasa Samudhara for the annual shraadh of her illustrious husband. Her grandson's Scholarship coupled with the income of the family and her own personal income enabled her to meet all the demands of the family and to devote her stipend and the shraadh allowance to the Charities. But now that the Scholarship has ceased, the dwindled resources of the family are scarcely sufficient to meet the demands thereon even with her personal income thrown in and there is little hope of the charities being continued by her grandson. Nor will the straitened circumstances of her daughters and their children admit of any of them under-taking the same.

2) Your humble petitioner has left to her no other alternative but to throw herself on Your Highness' generosity and to request that in memory of the undying and devoted loyalty and services of her dear husband, Your Highness will be pleased to sanction a permanent grant of the amount required. This will enable her to direct her whole attention towards Heaven and when the time which cannot be far.

comes, joyfully consign her grateful soul into the beneficent refuge of the lotus feet of our Lord and Creator

6) And for this gracious act of generosity and kindness Your humble petitioner who has completed her seventy
- five years of age offers her daily prayer
to God that he may vouchsafe long life and every prosperity to Your Highness and the illustrious members of Your Royal Family.

Your Petitioner begs
to remain
Your Highness' most obedient Servant
